Mrs. Jane Duff
TRINITY BROADCASTING NETWORK
P. O. Box C-11949

Dear Jane:

Enclosed is a tentative priority list for new translator filings for the upcoming LPTV window.

In deriving this list, I looked at each state and determined those counties with populations exceeding 50,000 people. I then eliminated any county located within the service area of a Trinity owned or affiliate station, or located within one of the FCC's designated freeze areas. [A few exceptions to these criteria are noted in the list.] I then went back and determined the largest city within the county and specified it as the city of choice.

One of the pitfalls of gathering data in such a manner is that often a county is too large to serve completely with a single translator. In addition, the most population-advantageous location of a transmitter site is rarely in the middle of a given county.

As a result, I would ask that the priority list not be finalized until you verify the population estimates. My suggestion is that you have George run a population count on his computer, using the city reference coordinates I have supplied in my list, for a radius of 20 miles. Once he determines those populations and supplies the data to me, I will revise the priority list accordingly.

In addition, feel free to add or delete cities to the list as you see fit. Sometimes I am not aware of potential acquisitions which may alter our priorities.

Feel free to call me if you have any questions regarding this project.

Best regards,

Kevin T. Fisher

NOTES

1. The following cities are slightly short-spaced to one of the "frozen" markets: Richmond, Sumter, Scranton, Cheyenne, and Harrisburg. The shortage should not preclude the use of the desired market. It's impact is on restricting the number of allowable transmitter sites. Since major change applications are not subject to the freeze restrictions, it is assumed that we could move the facility to a better, but currently restricted site during a subsequent window.

2. We have recently been looking at Longview, Texas, Construction Permits. Should we purchase one prior to the window opening, scratch it off my list.

3. Chapel Hill is outside the Grade A but within the Grade B contour of VCI's Construction Permit in Durham. We might want to look at serving the Burlington area + Chapel Hill (need to watch Charlotte freeze restriction).

4. In Joplin and Billings, we have affiliates who are operating on VHF channels with pipsqueek signals. These markets are big enough to deserve better signals.

5. My database indicates that Ruarch has a station in Harrisonburg, Virginia. However, the latest affiliate list does not reference this station. If he is not carrying our programming in Harrisonburg, we should consider this market for ourselves.

6. Cleveland is near Chattanooga, but may be terrain-shielded therefrom.

7. Neo-Nazi group is planning to set up headquarters near St. George. This area is going to need us.

8. Can we do Alaska and Hawaii?

9. This was one Jane mentioned to me a while ago.

The board considered a request for a loan from national Minority Television, Inc. to be used to provide an investment and a loan to Community Brace, Inc., a specialized small business investment company for African Americans.

OCTOBER 15, 1992

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of National Minority Television, Inc. was held on October 15, 1992 with all directors participating, except Phillip Aguilar, who was unable to attend due to an engagement in San Francisco.

The Board of Directors considered the possibility of participating in a Specialized Small Business Investment Company, being organized by a California corporation, Community Brace, Inc. Rev. The President explained that Community Brace, Inc. would provide business loans to African Americans in the Los Angeles area and that the goals of Community Brace in attempting to assist the economic development of minorities was identical to the goals of National Minority Television, Inc. The President also mentioned that the corporation could offer opportunities for minorities, and particularly, African Americans to become involved in telecommunications and to receive valuable business training.

The board discussed its responsibility to the minority community and the positive qualifications of those already involved in Community Brace, Inc.

The board also discussed the need of the corporation for funding of ONE MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1,500,000.00), which the federal government will match once the corporation is operational.

It was then moved, seconded and passed that the corporation provide Community Brace, Inc. with funding in the amount of ONE MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS (1,500,000.00) to be in the form of a loan and an investment in the stock of the corporation.

It was further moved, seconded and passed that the President and Secretary shall be authorized and empowered to negotiate a loan as required to provide such funding to Community Brace, Inc. and to negotiate such terms and conditions for said loan as they deem reasonable.
